

Walking to The White Cliffs of Dover

The White Cliffs of Dover,
Langdon Cliffs, Upper Road,
Dover

TRAIL
Walking

GRADE
Moderate

DISTANCE
1.5 miles (2.4km)

TIME
30

OS MAP
138

Contact

01304 207326
whitecliffs@nationaltrust.org.uk

Facilities

The White Cliffs are open to walkers free of charge everyday of the year.

The cafe, gift shop and toilets are open daily 10-5pm, March to October with shorter hours in winter.

A short walk from the visitor centre takes you to a viewing point to see the cliffs, a free walking map of the cliffs is available from the visitor centre

Enjoy a walk across the cliffs to South Foreland Lighthouse, ask in the visitor centre for more information.

Take a walk through Dover and along the seafront to the iconic White Cliffs. On your way you'll see the historic medieval castle while viewing the hustle and bustle of the world's busiest passenger port. When you get to the cliffs, call in to our visitor centre to collect a free walking map and grab a bite to eat or treat yourself to something from our shop.

Terrain

The walk is mostly on paved surfaces with some steps; mostly flat, with one very steep section. The route is challenging with a pushchair.

Things to see

Dover Museum

Before you start your walk why not visit Dover Museum? The museum has a fascinating collection of items from the local area, including the world's oldest seagoing vessel the Dover Bronze Age Boat.

The seafront

Enjoy views of the harbour and castle. From the promenade you'll be able to see the ships coming and going from the ferry terminal and may even see a giant cruise liner at the western docks.

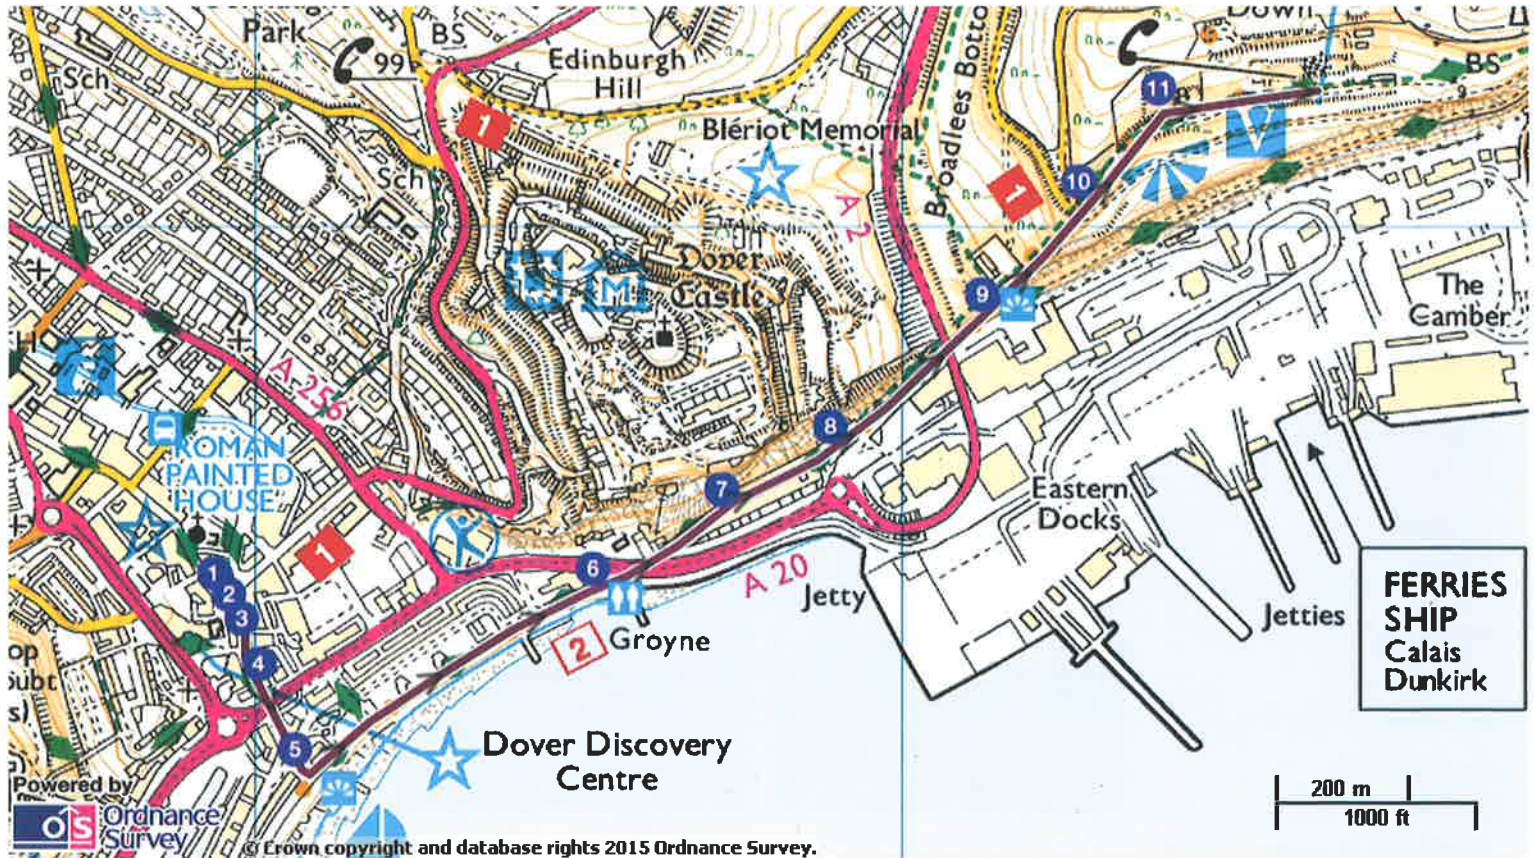

The Port of Dover

Take a moment to look at the bustle of the port below you. Ferries arrive and depart 24hrs a day traveling to France and Belgium. The Port of Dover is the world's busiest international passenger port.

National Trust

<http://nationaltrust.org.uk/walks>

Start/end

Start: Market Square, Dover
End: White Cliffs of Dover
Visitor Centre

How to get there

Start in Dover town centre at the Market Square, near Dover Museum and tourist information centre

- 1 Starting your walk in the Market Square outside the museum
- 2 Walk towards the coach pull in and turn right down King Street towards the sea.
- 3 Look ahead for the underpass under the main road.
- 4 Walk through the underpass and climb the stairs on the other side, head for the gap between the buildings ahead of you.
- 5 Once you've crossed the road, turn left walking along the promenade towards the cliffs, harbour and castle.
- 6 Just past Pebbles Kiosk and the toilets you'll see a pedestrian crossing over the main road. Cross the road and walk down the smaller road called East Cliff behind the large houses.
- 7 Continue along East Cliff, as the road starts to climb gently you walk onto Atholl Terrace.
- 8 Walk along Atholl Terrace, past the end of the houses and garages, there is a small footpath that leads up to the cliffs just beyond the end garage
- 9 The path will continue to climb up. The footpath will pass under a main road to the docks, head up the short flight of stairs and continue uphill, staying on the path.
- 10 When you get to the top of the path, you will come onto a main road, you'll see the National Trust welcome sign for the cliffs. Walk into the site along the main road, passing the car park booth.
- 11 Follow the main road in, you'll see the Visitor Centre building ahead of you.