Dover

With its wealth of history and heritage, Dover welcomes millions of visitors each year. Enjoy exhilarating cliff-top walks on the world-famous White Cliffs, explore 2000 years of history at Dover Castle, see the oldest known sea-going vessel in the world, the Bronze-Age Boat, at Dover Museum and stroll along the magnificent seafront.

DOVER HISTORIC TOWN TRAIL

- A B MARKET SQUARE Dover Corporation kept its instruments of punishment here - stock, pillory and whipping post.
- C ST MARY'S CHURCH Parish church founded circa 1100 AD, rebuilt in 1843 because of unsafe foundations due to the number of burials under the floor.
- D ROMAN PAINTED HOUSE Exceptionally well-preserved town house, with extensive intact wall paintings and elaborate under-floor heating.
- E ST EDMUND'S CHAPEL Saint Richard, Bishop of Chichester died here in 1253. His internal organs were buried in a cist under the chapel altar.
- F DOVER PRIORY (DOVER COLLEGE) Founded in 1130 as a monastery. King Stephen allegedly died here in 1154.
- G MAISON DIEU Originally built as a hospice in 1203 for travelling pilgrims and for the care of wounded and destitute soldiers.
- H MAISON DIEU HOUSE An excellent example of Stuart period architecture and once the residence of the Agent Victualler for the English fleet.
- I PENCESTER GARDENS Stephen de Pencester became Constable of Dover Castle and Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports in the 13th century.
- J MASON DIEU ROAD Victorian residential street. The steep steps of Harold Passage lead directly up to Dover Castle.
- K LAURESTON PLACE-TURNPIKE This was the main road into Dover used by stage coaches travelling from Deal. A French invading army camped here in 1216.
- L OLD ST JAMES' CHURCH Founded in Saxon times and used not only as a church but also by the Barons of the Cinque Ports for several of their official courts until 1851.
- M MOAT BULWARK & EAST CLIFF Remains of fortifications built in 1540 during the reign of Henry VIII.
- H MARINE PARADE The centre of the seafront promenade, fashionable during Victorian times.
- O WATERLOO CRESCENT A row of elegant houses built between 1830-1838. Before World War II they extended along the seafront.
- P WESTERN DOCKS This area has seen a number of important and famous people leave and arrive the shores of England: Henry V returning from Agincourt in 1415, Charles II returning from exile in 1660 and Henry VIII on his way to France in 1520.

- Q NEWBRIDGE This area was developed as town houses for the gentry and Charles Dickens lived here temporarily.
- R GRAND SHAFT A unique 140 feet triple spiral staircase dug through the cliff between 1806-1809 to get troops from the Western Heights down to the harbour very quickly.
- S BLERIOT MEMORIAL Marks the steep spot where on 25 July 1909 Louis Blériot landed his aircraft after making the first crossing of the Channel by aeroplane.

1 DOVER TOTEMS WALK TO THE WHITE CLIFFS

See the 'Dover Totems' marking the pathway from Athol Terrace up to the White Cliffs of Dover. A steep climb with the National Trust shop and café at the top. From here a must for all walkers is a cliff top walk along the iconic White Cliffs of Dover to St Margaret's. Waymarked.

2 DOVER BLUEBIRD HERITAGE TRAIL

This two mile self-guided trail starts at the War Memorial by Dover Town Hall and is marked by distinctive Bluebird Heritage Trail bronze pavement markers linking 31 of Dover's historic buildings, sites and monuments. doverbluebirdtrail.co.uk

3 WESTERN HEIGHTS

One of the most important and impressive fortifications in Britain with three clearly marked circular routes - follow each route separately or join them together for a longer walk of around four miles. Drop Redoubt Circular Walk around 3/4 of a mile, Grand Shaft Circular Walk around 3/4 of a mile and the Citadel Circular Walk around two miles. whitecliffscountry.org.uk

4 RIVER DOUR WALKING TRAIL

A four-mile walking trail following this pure chalk stream (one of only 200 in the world) signposted from Wellington Dock on the seafront, through Kearsney Park to Temple Ewell where the stream rises. Waymarked.

5 RIVER DOUR GREENWAY CYCLE ROUTE

Completed in 2013, this route provides an arterial traffic-free link through the heart of Dover between Buckland Mill and the seafront. Following the gentle flow of the River Dour it provides a surprisingly level track through the steep-sided valley in which the town rests. sustrans.org.uk

Deal

Visit one of the prettiest seaside towns in Kent with its award-winning high street and unspoiled seafront. Deal is steeped in maritime history which you can explore at the Timeball Tower Museum, which explores the fight against smuggling, and Deal Castle, one of the finest Tudor artillery castles in England. Take a walk through the conservation area renowned for smuggling in the 18th century and browse the many independent shops, cafes, bars and restaurants.

DEAL HISTORIC TOWN TRAIL

- A DEAL PIER Re-opened in 1957 to replace the previous Victorian pier which was demolished after a Dutch merchant ship ran into it in 1940.
- B BEACH STREET Admiral Nelson outraged society when he stayed with his mistress, Lady Emma Hamilton, at the nearby Royal Hotel in 1801.
- C GOODWIN SANDS For centuries untold numbers of ships ran aground and sank on the sands. Wrecks disappear and re-appear as the sands change shape.
- D ALFRED SQUARE & MIDDLE STREET This area was once crowded with pubs, sailors, smugglers, press gangs and 'women of the night'. It had a terrible reputation and murders and assaults were common.
- E MIDDLE STREET The centre of Deal's notorious smuggling activities. The smugglers' hiding places were so good, they are still being discovered today.
- F MIDDLE STREET No 73 is reported to be the house where in 1801 Nelson's great friend Captain Edward Parker died from his wounds received in the raid on Boulogne.
- G TOWN HALL & ST GEORGE'S CHURCH During the Napoleonic wars many naval men and officers, including Nelson himself, frequently worshipped in this church.
- H HIGH STREET Once called Lower Street because the land here was often flooded by the sea. It was the setting for the mysterious tale of Ambrose Gurnnett, who was falsely sent into exile for murder.

- I QUEEN ANNE HOUSE & CROWN COURT The local hangman once lived in this area and his house still stands on one of the alley corners.
- J SOUTH STREET AND CARTER HOUSE Once the terminus for horse drawn coaches and home to the famous scholar, Elizabeth Carter.
- K VICTORIA ROAD Originally called Prospect Place and once a high class residential area for the town's rich and influential citizens.
- L DEAL CASTLE One of Henry VIII's coastal fortresses, designed to engage in a short artillery action rather than a long siege.
- M PRINCE OF WALES TERRACE Marks the sea frontage of the Old Naval Yard of 1703 which became a Victorian promenade.
- N MARITIME DEAL The treacherous waters off Deal demanded pilots with specialised local knowledge and gave rise to the Cinque Port Pilots.
- O TIMEBALL TOWER The site of the Old Naval Yard. The iron ball on the roof dropped at exactly 1pm to warn ships in the Downs to be ready to set their chronometers - and is still working today! Now a museum.
- P WALMER CASTLE This is the official residence of the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports and includes delightful antique furnishings with extensive gardens laid out by Lady Hester Stanhope.
- Q WALMER STRAND The open, shelving beach near here was almost certainly the landing place of Julius Caesar and his Roman fleet who invaded Britain in 55 BC.

1 ROYAL MARINES HERITAGE TRAIL

A self-guided two hour heritage walking trail celebrating the rich history of the Royal Marines and their unique relationship with Deal and Walmer that has endured for over 350 years. royalmarinesheritagetrails.org

2 DEAL PIER TO WALMER CASTLE CYCLE PATH & WALK

Part of the National Cycle Route 1 and National Coastal Paths, this section follows the shingle beach mostly along a designated off-road path. A beautiful, easy, family friendly route for both walkers and cyclists. Waymarked.

3 DEAL'S HISTORIC WALKING TOUR

Entertaining walking tours of Deal from the seafront. Deal's Historic Walking Tour lasts for around 1 hour and covers the town's notorious smuggling history, famous faces, castles and bulwarks and much more. thehistoryproject.co.uk

Sandwich

Once a bustling and prosperous port, Sandwich is one of the most well-preserved medieval towns in Britain. Wander the ancient streets to see wonderful half-timbered houses and quaint alleyways. Follow the historic town trail, much of it along the banks of the River Stour, to get an insight into the town's fascinating origins and visit the Guildhall Museum.

SANDWICH HISTORIC TOWN TRAIL ONE

- A SANDWICH GUILDHALL Built in 1579 and open for guided tours by appointment. John Montagu, the 4th Earl of Sandwich, is said to have invented the modern sandwich in 1762 at the gaming table, when he asked for meat to be served between slices of bread to avoid interrupting gameplay.
- B MOAT SOLE St Thomas' Hospital, named in honour of St Thomas Becket. In 1392 it accommodated 12 poor people of the town.
- C THE BUTTS Used in medieval times as an archery practice field. It is believed to be the site where Henry V's archers practiced before sailing for their famous victory at Agincourt, France, in 1415.
- D GALLOWS FIELD Once the town's place of execution, where felons were hanged and witches were drowned. Last hangings took place in the 1790s.
- E STRAND STREET Probably contains more half-timbered houses than any other street in England, most of which are still inhabited.
- F ST MARY'S CHURCH Built by the Normans on the site of a Saxon nunnery, the church was destroyed during the French raids of 1217 and 1457 and later rebuilt.
- G KING'S LODGING Dating from 1400 this is possibly the finest period house in the town. Henry VIII is said to have lodged here, as did Elizabeth I during her visit in 1572.
- H SANDWICH WEAVERS A beautiful building formerly used as a home and workshop by 16th century Dutch refugees.
- I ST PETER'S CHURCH Climb up to the top of the tower past the bell and clock chambers for magnificent views over medieval Sandwich.

SANDWICH HISTORIC TOWN TRAIL TWO

- A ST PETER'S STREET Originally called Jail Street, the medieval gable buildings can still be seen.
- B THE BARBICAN & TOLL BRIDGE The tradition of collecting a fee to cross the river dates back to King Canute who first granted a charter to the Monks of Christchurch in Canterbury to operate a ferry in the early 11th century. Bridge toll collection ended in 1977.
- C THE QUAY AND SLIPWAY From here in medieval times, kings and their armies embarked for the wars in France.
- D THE BULWARKS Sandwich has a remarkable history of violent raids and invasions. The town was entirely walled in 1385 by order of Richard II.
- E ST CLEMENT'S CHURCH Saxon in origin, town mayors were elected here by Common Consent until 1683. Any mayor refusing the honour had his house demolished.
- F KING STREET Dutch and Flemish Protestants fleeing Catholic oppression by the Spanish settled here and built and renovated many houses in their distinctive style.
- G ROPEWALK Once used for ships' rope-making which required a long, straight stretch for 'walking out'.
- H ST BARTHOLOMEW'S One of the oldest established hostels for travellers and pilgrims, dating back to 1190, it is now a home for the local elderly. Its nearby Chapel was funded from the spoils of the 1217 Battle of Sandwich.

WALKING ROUTES AND TRAILS

CYCLE ROUTES

1 NATIONAL CYCLE NETWORK (ROUTE 1)

This fantastic, well-signed route takes in the three famous castles of Dover, Walmer and Deal and the Roman Fort at Richborough. Starting in Dover, cycle along the seafront taking in the Marina Curve, where there's a bike-friendly café, and the pier before heading up the long, steep climb to the famous cliff-top overlooking the English Channel after which it is mostly downhill to Deal. Avoid this climb by taking the train from Dover Priory to Martin Mill and cycling 2 miles to the coast at St Margaret's-at-Cliffe to join the downhill route!

The route from Deal to Sandwich is mostly traffic-free and runs inland past three world-famous golf courses, Sandwich Bird Observatory then into the centre of Sandwich, considered one of the most well-preserved medieval towns in Britain. sustrans.org.uk

15 THE SANDWICH WAY (ROUTE 15)

Route 15 follows an imaginative route through beautiful rolling countryside between Whitfield and Sandwich. It is an area of bridleways for off-roaders, ancient churches, hedgerows and yew trees, and villages with 'hall house' buildings dating from medieval times. sustrans.org.uk

16 17 CATHEDRAL TO COAST REGIONAL CYCLE NETWORK (ROUTES 16 AND 17)

This 50 mile route from Dover takes you through stunning countryside and small hamlets to the cathedral city of Canterbury. The route is largely traffic-free between Dover and Whitfield before joining a network of quiet lanes towards Canterbury. Route 17 (anti-clockwise) heads towards Folkestone via West Hougham. explorekent.org

1 CHALK AND CHANNEL WAY

This walking and cycle route covers 8 miles (14 km) between Dover and Folkestone, taking in the amazing views from the famous White Cliffs and through the Kent Downs Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. Be prepared for steep climbs, but you'll be able to rest your legs as the route drops to sea level as you near Folkestone. sustrans.org.uk

2 CANTII WAY

A new 145-mile loop through the Kent Downs Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and across parts of the North Downs Way National Trail that combines quirky coastal towns and dramatic chalk cliffs with the rolling hills of the Kent Downs, including National Cycle Network route 1 through White Cliffs Country. Starting and ending in the village of Wye, the circular route uses traffic-free cycle paths, bridleways and quiet roads, and is ideal for touring and hybrid bikes. It's perfect for a leisurely trip with lots to discover along the way. cyclinguk.org/cantii-way

3 SKYLARK TRAIL

The route takes you through the countryside to the cliffs, from Walmer Station to Guston and Dover. Don't miss the lovely old church in the pretty village of Ringwood. There are great views of open countryside, old woods and hedgerows along the way. Listen out for the skylarks! Waymarked

4 BETTESHANGER PARK

Betteshanger park has a smooth 3-km tarmac track, with fast lane, providing safe, traffic-free cycling. There is also 10-km of rugged mountain bike trails running throughout the park. Designed with varying difficulty and for different abilities, they are perfect for both beginners and those with off-road experience. betteshanger-park.co.uk

5 NORTH DOWNS WAY RIDERS' ROUTE

The riders' route for the North Downs Way stretches for 153 miles through the Surrey Hills and Kent Downs, from Farnham in Surrey to Dover, taking in beautiful rolling hills and woodlands, castles and cathedrals, vineyards and breweries. The trail also travels along part of the ancient Via Francigena pilgrimage route. The riders' route follows the North Downs Way where it is accessible for cyclists with diversions onto rideable routes where necessary. explorekent.org
